Costa Rica President to Take Command of Troops

5-Nation Group Says Rebels Get Foreign Help

Commission to Begin Observation Flights Over Area

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—President Jose Figueres said today he is ready to go to the front "at any moment" to take personal command of his troops fighting insurgents armed from abroad and aided by foreign warplanes.

He said he was pleased with the preliminary report of a five-nations commission investigating the attack against his government.

"The commission has satisfied itself that foreign planes were used to attack Costa Rican towns and that enemy elements within the country had received arms from abroad," he said.

The commission, flying in planes supplied by the United States, was to begin observation flights over the trouble zone near the Nicaraguan frontier today.

Government troops also were being flown north to meet three advancing rebel columns in what could be the decisive battle of the four-day revolt. Loyal officers believe the crucial battle will be fought at Liberia, a highway center 160 miles west-northwest of San Jose. Liberia was bombed and strafed by enemy planes Thursday night.

President Figueres, in his fourth interview with the United Press since the beginning of the uprising, said the attacking forces in Costa Rica were getting "financial, moral and material support from the dictatorships" of Latin America.

Capital Blacked Out
San Jose was blacked out for half an hour after word of the Liberia raid was received here, but defense officials authorized a return to "brownout" conditions after they determined no planes were heading this way.

The Costa Rican capital was calm despite the blackout and other reports of warlike activity in the Nicaraguan border area. Authorities said the lack of agitation here disproves Nicaraguan and Venezuelan claims that the revolt is purely a domestic problem.

The five-nation commission sent here by the Organization of American States issued a preliminary report confirming that the rebels are being supplied from abroad and aided by foreign warplanes.

The investigators, representing the United States, Brazil, Ecuador, Mexico and Paraguay, did not accuse any specific foreign nation of aiding the rebels. Costa Rican authorities say Nicaragua and Venezuela are backing the revolt.

U. I. Faculty Art Exhibit On Display Here Next Week

The University of Illinois Faculty Travelling Art exhibit will be presented to people of the area next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, sponsored by the Saline Artists association.

The paintings will be shown on the first floor of the Cummins building starting at 1 p. m. each day and continuing until around 9 p. m.

There are 17 paintings in the group to be shown here and one member of the county art group remarked that "we feel it is quite a privilege to get such a fine group of paintings and the public should show its appreciation of its coming here by going to see the exhibit."

Admission to the exhibit is free but since there is approximately $60 expense connected with getting the display here a container will be available for adults who desire to contribute toward meeting the expense.

Classes of school children are especially invited although it is suggested that classes from the fifth grade and up be taken. Teachers desiring an appointment should contact Atty. Lloyd H. Melton, who will make the arrangements for somebody to answer questions that may arise.

The exhibit probably will be shown in Eldorado on Friday and Saturday of next week.

Labor Leader Faces Charge of Perjury After Testimony at Trial

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A union official who testified in a labor racketeering trial today faced a charge of perjury.

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle cited James C. Baysinger, business agent for Local 362 of the AFL Common Laborers Union, Bloomington, after Baysinger finished testifying for the defense in the trial of Harry Meisenhelter, Decatur, Thursday.

Briggle said Baysinger's trial testimony "appears to be in direct conflict" with his answers when questioned by a federal grand jury here Nov. 16. Baysinger admitted his grand jury testimony was false.

WSIL-TV to Hold Polio Telethon Tuesday, Feb. 1

WSIL-TV will feature the second annual Polio Telethon for the benefit of the March of Dimes Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p. m. according to Jim Bolen, program director of the station. The show this year will be the biggest program the station has undertaken since it went on the air in December of 1953. Last January, the station held its first telethon for the March of Dimes and collected a total of $4500 in pledges in a six hour period.

This year the station and March of Dimes officials have planned a giant talent show to begin at 8 p. m. and run until sometime after midnight.

The show will feature some big name headline acts including the Ted Weems orchestra in person. Ted Weems and his orchestra is famous for the recording of "Heartaches," which topped the million mark in record sales a few seasons ago. They are currently featured on M-G-M recordings. Ted Weems is also noted for his work with Perry Como who obtained his start in the big-time singing with the Weems band.

In addition to Ted Weems and his orchestra, the channel 22 polio show will feature Bonnie Ann Shaw, a young lady who is making her mark in the entertainment world, singing and whistling with the Weems group. Also featured with Weems, is Ray Sullenger, whose home is Herrin, Ill. Bill Gannon of Carbondale and the Wayfarers vocal group currently featured on RCA Victor records. Red Ingles is another headliner who will appear in person. Ingles, the zany master of comedy, took the nation by storm with his Capitol recording of "Temptation," which featured Jo Stafford and Ingles' "Unnatural Seven."

These outstanding acts will form the nucleus of the show with many top notch southern Illinois acts also appearing. The show will feature Jim Bolen as master of ceremonies and will include all of the WSIL-TV stars, Bill Plater, Lucky Le Roy, the Rhythm Ramblers, the Prophets, Frank Elders, and announcer Jerry Reuter.

The television studios will be equipped with a battery of telephones and operators to take phone pledges, and a master tally board to show the viewers the county and city totals from 17 southern Illinois counties. Pledges received during the program will be credited to the individual counties from which they are received.

Meisenhelter, business agent for Common Laborers Local 159, is on trial on charges he obtained $3,300 on his promise of labor peace on the construction of an 11-million-dollar oil pipeline from Wood River, Ill., to East Chicago, Ind., in 1952 and 1953.

Treese Boyd, superintendent of the project for P. & S. Constructors Inc., Cape Girardeau, Mo., had testified he paid the money to Meisenhelter in installments of $150 a week.

Boyd, the government's star witness against Meisenhelter, mentioned he also made "payments" to Baysinger. After the government finished its case Thursday, the defense called Baysinger as a witness.

Baysinger testified he met Boyd in a Kankakee hotel before the construction started in 1952 and Boyd offered him $100 a week.

"I told Mr. Boyd I wasn't interested in anything at all except that my men got the proper treatment," Baysinger said.

Robert Oxtoby, assistant U. S. attorney, then read from Baysinger's grand jury testimony. He noted that Baysinger told the grand jury he never received even a "hint" from Boyd that he'd "like" to give Baysinger money, and no contractor had ever offered him money.

When the jury was discharged for the night, Briggle called Baysinger before him and asked which testimony was correct. The union agent said his trial testimony was right and the grand jury answers he made were false.

The judge then ordered a bench warrant issued charging Baysinger with perjury. He set bond at $5,000.

The government called 11 witnesses before it rested its case. First defense witness was R. B. Potashnik, president of P. & S., who also was called by the government.

Potashnik said that before his firm started the multi-million-dollar project, he paid $10,000 to Southern Illinois common laborer chief Evan R. Dale, Carbondale, to insure labor peace.

Questioned why he made such a deal with Dale, who since has been convicted of labor racketeering in another case, Potashnik said "he was the big wheel down in our country."

"He said he'd take care of all my labor trouble," Potashnik said. "I asked how much it was going to cost me and he said $10,000." Despite this payment, Potashnik said, laborers went on strike in September, 1952, for higher wages and he had to pay Dale $2,500 more "for lawyer's fees" to get it settled.

The men went back to work after this money was turned over to Dale, but at higher pay, Potashnik said. He added "I don't see how we got much benefit" out of the money paid to Dale.

Bishop Holt Proposes Merger Of Three Groups

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A Methodist bishop's plan for merging three large Protestant church groups into a "United Church of Christ" met with skepticism and misgivings today by ministers around the nation.

Most ministers who commented on the plan agreed with it "in principle" but were doubtful over the feasibility of the plan in actual practice.

The plan, proposed for study by Methodist Bishop Ivan L. Holt, called for a merger of Congregational, Episcopal and Presbyterian communicants. Bishop Holt outlined his proposal Thursday to some 25 general agencies of the Methodist Church at their annual meeting here.

He told the assembly that his plan would permit each local church to determine its mode of worship and administration of the sacraments of Holy Communion and baptism. Each denomination would decide which of the three groups its ministers should be regarded as belonging.

Bishop Holt, chairman of a commission to form "a plan of union" for the three Protestant groups, who also heads a commission working for unity of Methodist churches, said 10 or more churches would be formed into a presbytery, meeting annually.

The bishop said the proposal was to be submitted for study to these churches: African Methodist Episcopal Zion, Colored Methodist Episcopal, Congregational Christian, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical and Reformed, Presbyterian U. S. A. and Presbyterian U. S. A.

Dr. Roy E. Mueller, executive secretary of the Indiana Synod Presbyterian Church, said, "I just don't see how it possibly can be affected."

He said the three groups mentioned were "very definitely different in their government pattern" and "we would first have to get together the denominations which have a common form of government."

Military Reserve Plan Opposed By Congressmen

Expect Approval Of Draft Extension And Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration proposals for a four-year extension of the draft and a military pay increase found quick congressional support today, but opposition loomed to a sweeping new military reserve program.

Congressional leaders said privately President Eisenhower will have to throw his full and continuing support behind the reserve program, which incorporates a modified version of universal military training, to get it through a reluctant Congress.

Even with all-out presidential support the plan faces an uncertain fate at the hands of Congress, these leaders said.

The President Thursday kicked off what will undoubtedly be one of the biggest controversies of the new congressional session by proposing:

1. A four-year extension of the draft combined with the new National Reserve Plan.

2. Selective military pay increase averaging about 6.7 per cent.

Congressmen and senators who will handle the legislation in committee predicted little difficulty over extending the draft, now due to expire June 30. Legislators generally agreed with the President that there is no other way to maintain military forces sizable enough for the period of "uneasy peace" ahead.

And with Congress in a mood to give a pay hike to civilian federal workers, there was little opposition to proposals to increase military pay and other benefits to make a military career more attractive.

But many congressmen, traditionally opposed to anything smacking of UMT, cast a hostile eye on the reserve program, particularly on its two key features. They call for compulsory reserve duty after active service and the training of 100,000 youths annually for six months basic training followed by 9½ years reserve duty.

A tipoff on the probable fate of the administration's reserve plan came in the decision by Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee to press ahead with the draft measure, leaving the reserve program for later consideration.

One influential congressional leader said that Vinson's action would be "virtually a kiss of death" for the reserve plan.

Sec'y of State Backs Up Charge Counties Fail to Report Traffic Convictions

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The secretary of state's office today backed its charge that some downstate Illinois courts aren't complying with the 1953 driver's license law by issuing a county-by-county breakdown of traffic convictions reported.

Under the new driver's license law, courts must report all convictions and bail forfeitures on traffic violations to the secretary's office.

The secretary is given mandatory and discretionary powers to revoke licenses of drivers who have serious or repeated offenses.

An investigation at Bloomington disclosed hundreds of required court reports from Police Magistrate Walter J. Reiner apparently never were filed with the secretary's office. Atty. Gen. Latham Castle has recommended a grand jury investigation of the case.

At Urbana, a justice of the peace said he had not been sending in the reports and didn't believe it was the law. However, the secretary of state's office reported this justice has informed an investigator he will now comply.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carroll said the law requires that the attorney general and the state's attorney of each county take action against "omission of duty" by the judges. He has notified all courts the report forms are available from his office.

Eisenhower Receives Hammarskjold Report; Has Nothing to Say at This Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has received a report on Dag Hammarskjold's free-the-fliers mission to Peiping, but the White House said today there is nothing to say "at this time."

The report was given to Mr. Eisenhower Thursday night by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who had received it by telephone from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. representative to the United Nations.

Dulles and Lodge did not attend the President's Cabinet meeting today, but instead flew to Omaha, Neb., to the headquarters of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) for a briefing on its operations.

The state department described the briefing as routine, one given at some time or another to high government officials.

SAC is responsible for carrying an all-out attack to the homeland of any nation which commits aggression against the United States.

In Omaha, Dulles and Lodge will have ample opportunity to talk over the report of the U. N. secretary general's efforts to win release from Red China of 11 imprisoned American airmen.

The United States, meanwhile, ruled out any deal with Red China to swap diplomatic recognition or a seat in the U. N. for the freedom of the jailed Americans.

Officials at the same time, however, did not veto the possibility of letting 35 Chinese students in this country go home to Communism if that alone is the Communist price for freedom of the 11 American fliers and others held by the Reds.

The State Department some time ago indicated it would go for a students - for - Americans trade. Authorities said the cases of the Chinese were "still under review on an individual basis" — an indication they could get exit permits on a speedy basis.

Stiff American objections to recognition of U. N. membership at this time were regarded as significant. They were sounded simultaneously with the return home of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold from his trip to Peiping to try to free the Americans who are regarded as U. N. personnel.

Robertson Delivers Attacks
The United States believes the U. N. should free the Americans since they were captured while fighting under the U. N. banner in Korea. This position has cut down on the prospects of any direct American - Red Chinese negotiations.

The stiff American attitude toward the Red Chinese was underscored Thursday night by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' top expert on foreign affairs.

The expert, Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, delivered an unprecedented series of attacks on Red China in a speech before the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia.

Robertson called the Chinese rulers "arrogant . . . contemptuous . . . gangsters . . . torturers . . . blackmailers . . . impostors . . . ruthless" people who would let Chinese citizens starve without a second thought.

Asserting that this government is firmly opposed to recognition or giving the Reds a U. N. seat, Robertson said such action would only strengthen the Chinese rulers and their ability to carry out further conquest "in collusion with Soviet Communism."

Test Pilot is Missing After Bailing Out

Test pilot James Verdin, holder of the world's jet speed record, was missing today after bailing out over the Mojave Desert.

At Ellsworth Air Force Base in South Dakota, 38 men escaped injury Thursday night when a C119 suffered an engine failure shortly after takeoff and made a forced landing.

The accident was the fourth to mar "Operation Snowbird," an air-lift operation to Alaska. The Flying Boxcar suffered heavy damage when it hit a power line and utility pole as it landed, but no one was reported injured.

In other mishaps, 33 paratroopers jumped to safety from a crippled Flying Boxcar over Fairbanks, Alaska, and the pilot of a jet fighter at Madison, Wis., jettisoned fuel tanks and rockets to land safely at Trux Airfield.

Meanwhile the Navy announced that it has called off a search for four men presumed killed in a collision of two B47 Stratojet bombers over the Gulf of Mexico Jan. 5.

Verdin, 37-year-old former Navy combat hero, was reported missing Thursday after his Navy A4D Douglas Skyhawk crashed and burned in a barren area about 15 miles northwest of Victorville, Calif.

Moments before the crash, he radioed to Edwards Air Force Base that he was in trouble and bailing out at 35,000 feet. His body was not found in the wreckage and a search was ordered by planes and ground parties.

At Fairbanks, 33 paratroopers leaped to safety in darkness Thursday when one engine of a C119 failed. The plane later made a forced landing at Ladd Air Force Base.

At Madison, the pilot brought the Flying Boxcar in safely with his co-pilot and six crewmen.

At Madison, Capt. William Gatschet, 27, dumped his rockets and fuel tanks when his F86 fighter developed engine trouble and began to lose altitude.

At Wiesbaden, Germany, the U. S. Air Force announced today that the commander of a jet fighter wing was killed Tuesday when a F86F Sabre jet crashed on a training mission. He was Col. Roy R. Brischetto, 40, St. Louis, Mo.

Discloses First Details of Talks in China

Door Opened for Negotiations, UN Sec'y General Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said today that "no deals of any kind" for the release of 11 American prisoners sentenced as spies were suggested by either side in his talks with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai in Peiping.

He gave a news conference the first public disclosure of details of his mission to free the airmen and all other U. N. Command personnel still held by the Chinese Communists as Korean war prisoners.

He refused to discuss the substance of his 13½ hours of secret talks with Chou but replied to a question as to whether his mission was successful:

"If by successful, you mean that I brought the fliers back in the plane, I was not successful. If you mean that I achieved what I hoped to achieve, then I was successful."

Emphasizes "Open Door"
Hammarskjold made it clear, as he did on his arrival at Idlewild Airport Thursday night, that the door "has been opened" for negotiations with Red China and that he hoped to maintain the contact he established with Chou.

But he said he would not be specific on the time or place of the next contact with the Red Chinese. That, he said, would depend upon developments.

Chou, Hammarskjold said, gave him his views on "other questions pertinent to present international tensions." He did not detail what other questions were discussed.

"No deals of any kind, nor any link between these other questions and the prisoner question, were suggested by either side," he said.

Lodge Hears Full Report
Hammarskjold said Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the U. N., was the first person to be given a full report on his talks with Chou. The two conferred for an hour immediately after Hammarskjold's arrival Thursday night at Hammarskjold's apartment.

Lodge left the apartment in an optimistic mood and went to Washington to put Hammarskjold's findings before Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Eisenhower.

After an hour's briefing by Hammarskjold, Lodge said he was "confident that progress has been made and that our fliers will be free."

Mission Ended Thursday
Hammarskjold's 20,000-mile mission ended Thursday when he landed at New York's International Airport in a plane furnished by Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. Far East commander.

"My visit to Peiping was a first stage in my efforts to achieve the release of the 11 fliers and other U. N. Command personnel still detained," Hammarskjold said in a statement at the airport.

"I feel that my talks with Mr. Chou En-Lai were definitely useful for this purpose. We hope to be able to continue our contact."

"The door that has been opened can be kept open, given restraint on all sides."

Lodge, in a statement following his meeting with Hammarskjold, called the situation "delicate" and called for "both patience and determination."

"There is, naturally, disappointment that the immediate release of our fliers was not effectuated, but I am confident that progress has been made and our fliers will be free," Lodge said. "Assuredly, we will not — and must not — cease our efforts until they are."

Official Blisters Reds
A jarring note in the atmosphere of confidence and satisfaction came from Philadelphia, where Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson delivered a blistering attack on Red China and appeared to close the door on any possible deal on freeing the fliers.

Secret Sessions

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Lawmakers on Capitol Hill frequently hide the executive agencies of government from too much scrutiny. They grow irritable when they can't get access to department files, and reports of conversations between top officials.

But they live in a glass house. The publication Congressional Quarterly recently reported that upwards of one-third of all sessions of congressional committees are conducted in secret.

Admittedly, there never has been a peacetime era like the one we live in, when the demands of national security compel a considerable degree of secrecy. Certain deliberations pertaining to atomic energy, to general defense, and to the nation's diplomacy clearly must be kept close to the chest.

But that requirement does not justify Congress in barring the public, as it did in 1954, from 41 per cent of all its hearings. In 1953, the figure was 34 per cent, which was had enough.

The secrecy requirements first of World War II and then of the cold war have provided men in Congress and the executive branch as well with the excuse to perpetuate and broaden a habit that is all too convenient for political figures.

Congress assembles to deal with the public's business, and it should be the lawmakers' policy to let the public in on as much of that business as it can without hurting the national safety.

When from a third to nearly a half of its committee sessions are held in secret, citizens can only conclude that their representatives are taking advantage of them. They are utilizing the temper of the times to justify cloaking their errors, their embarrassments, their decisions from public gaze.

We have had this problem with us for a decade and a half. It is something of a shock to learn that it seems to be getting worse.

The next time a committee chairman gets up on his hind feet and demands that a federal department bare its files, drop the fellow a note and ask him how many times in the year he's held public hearings. It's time we stopped using secrecy as a prime device for political protection.

First Fatality

First fatality from a railroad accident occurred in England in 1830, at the opening of the pioneer Liverpool to Manchester road, the victim being run over by the locomotive.

The anoa is a small, wild ox, a sort of forest buffalo, found on the island of Celebes.

Accurate records of sunspot numbers have been kept since 1749.

Treatment of Career Men Raises Serious Question

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Why people want to make a career of working for the U. S. government is sometimes something of a mystery.

True enough, for the pick-and-shovel workers there are long vacations, liberal sick leave with pay whether they're sick or not, and assured pensions on retirement.

There are promotions in grade for those who plod along, keeping their noses clean and their necks in. There are a few incentive rewards for employees who come up with suggestions for increasing efficiency or saving Uncle Sam money.

But it takes an act of Congress to get a general pay raise like the one this new Congress will probably pass. And for employees who work their way from bottom to top, a kick in the pants is the reward as often as not.

THE LIST OF RECENT CASES proving these points is impressive: B. T. Fitzpatrick, tired as general counsel of Housing and Home Finance Administration after 21 years to make way for a lame duck Republican congressman who had voted against government housing programs ten times.

Wolf Ladejinsky, father of land reform in Japan, was fired as U. S. agriculture attache in Tokyo. The Agriculture Department's security officer said the fact that Ladejinsky, who was born in Russia, has relatives still living in Russia is enough to withhold security clearance.

This ruling touched off a controversy, since the State Department had cleared him even though it had the same information on him.

The uproar reached the White House and Ladejinsky wound up in Harold Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration where he will help with the land reform program in South Viet Nam.

The case of atomic scientist Dr. Robert Oppenheimer is familiar to everyone. For merely having supported Dr. Oppenheimer's position, Dr. John Von Neumann now faces a stiff battle getting Senate confirmation as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

State Department career man John Paton Davies, cleared in nine separate loyalty investigations, is nevertheless let go because he is a controversial figure they don't know how else to handle.

THESE CASES PRESENT a mixture of the Eisenhower administration's security program with a straight Republican political housecleaning. It is sometimes difficult to tell where one leaves off and the other begins. But a clarification now seems to be in the making.

The purge of government workers may have run its course. It was somewhat naturally carried to excesses in the zeal for rooting out every subversive influence out of government. But exaggerated claims on the number of firings for disloyalty have deflated the inquisition. The Senate's condemnation proceedings against Senator Joseph R. McCarthy completed the flattening-out. A few key court cases are putting the matter in better perspective.

Val R. Lorwin, University of Chicago professor and former State Department employee, won a six-year fight to clear his name of charges of communism. When the government could produce no evidence, perjury charges against him were dropped.

Now before the Supreme Court on appeal is the case of Dr. John P. Peters of Yale. Discharged from the Public Health Service on charges of disloyalty without being informed of or confronted by those who made the charges against him, he has sued for reinstatement.

LYLE L. ROBERSON, discharged by Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in a thinly disguised political move, has sued for reinstatement to protect his 26-year Civil Service record.

Democratic leaders in Congress have another angle in investigating administration firings of career government workers to make places for GOP patronage appointees.

The Eisenhower administration itself may take the lead in trying to straighten out this mess by revising both its security program regulations and its political job program.

The survival of the entire Civil Service system — based on non-political, career employment for all government workers — is now at stake.

Dulles Shows Optimism Over Indochina

WASHINGTON — Informed senators today regarded Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' increased optimism over Indochina as a definite sign that South Viet Nam may yet be saved from Communist domination.

Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at a closed door session Thursday that recent developments make the situation in Indochina "now somewhat more favorable than it has been."

He coupled the remark with a plea for the U. S. not to give up hope in areas where things "looked black" and not to limit its diplomatic and foreign aid efforts to areas where there is a "100 per cent chance of success."

Although Dulles mentioned no specific areas in the latter remark, most members of the committee felt it referred to the recent slight signs of progress in South Viet Nam.

Dulles also urged prompt approval of the Southeast Asia mutual defense treaty as notification to the Communist world that free nations of the East and West can work together.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.), who took over Thursday from Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), said the committee probably will act on the pact next week after one day of open hearings Wednesday. No serious opposition is expected.

Most senators present at the meeting found Dulles' report generally encouraging.

Sen. Wayne L. Morse (Ind-Ore), a new member attending his first meeting, said Dulles was "very reassuring." Another new member, Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) said he was "somewhat more encouraged." Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) described Dulles' tone as "measured optimism."

Joint Community Program at Rosiclare Tuesday

The communities of Rosiclare and Elizabethtown have a joint Community Development program underway and Tuesday, Jan. 18, there will be a meeting at the Rosiclare high school with representatives of the Federal government present to explain how the government can help in local community development programs.

A letter from the Small Business Administration to leaders in the Rosiclare-Elizabethtown program states that Clyde Miller of the St. Louis office of the Department of Commerce will attend the Tuesday meeting and discuss the problem of "Area Development."

Emanuel Kohn of the Chicago office of the Department of Labor is also expected to be present and discuss problems in the field of labor.

Others planning to attend include Geoffrey Hughes of Southern Illinois Inc. and a representative from Southern Illinois university.

Mr. Hughes, who has been active for many years in promoting this part of Illinois, will lead a discussion on the program and activities for promoting the industrial development of southern Illinois.

Social Security Offices in Need of Stenographer-Typists

Approximately 150 Stenographer-Typist positions are to be filled immediately in district offices of the Social Security Administration in Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, it was announced today by J. A. Connor, Seventh Regional Director of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Chicago, and E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Harrisburg Social Security Administration office.

Civil Service examinations will be held at the Harrisburg Post Office on two dates, Jan. 27 and Feb. 10, according to Mr. Hill. The vacancies to be filled are with the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance district offices and have been created as a result of the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act which expanded the Social Security program. Starting salary for most positions will be $2950 per annum, and although the examinations are being held primarily to fill positions with the Social Security Administration, successful applicants may also be referred to other federal agencies for appointment.

Complete details may be obtained from the local Social Security office or from your Post Office.

Eldorado Labor Ass'n to Discuss SIU Budget at Meeting Sunday at 2 p. m.

Eldorado's Labor Association for Industrial Development has called a meeting for Sunday 2 p. m. at the Eldorado city hall to discuss the proposed operating budget for Southern Illinois university.

The SIU board of trustees is asking the Illinois State Budgetary commission to recommend to the governor and legislature an operating budget for $16,500,000 for the coming biennium, with the declaration that if this amount is not granted, or is cut in any way, continued operation of SIU at the present level will be extremely difficult, if not impossible.

In addition to the budget, the board is asking for $35,904,300 for new buildings and other capital improvements that are long overdue if the university is to accomplish the job that it needs to do in southern Illinois.

To the Eldorado meeting have been invited 20 state representatives and state senators, mayors of southern Illinois towns, representatives from the Saline County Board of Supervisors and representatives of organizations.

It has been pointed out that SIU can do much toward the development of southern Illinois as a whole if it can receive adequate funds to do so.

One of the essential keys to the solution to the problems of southern Illinois, it is stated, is an extension of educational activities and of educational opportunity in the area and SIU has been striving to do this.

Because of the widespread recognition of the value of the program now being developed at the school, SIU has become the fastest growing university in America. Within the past two years the school's student enrollment has increased by more than 52 per cent, with the result that today the university actually has less space per student than it had in 1952, when space already was far below minimum standards.

Today SIU has reached the enrollment which a statewide study had indicated would not be reached before 1965, with a one-year enrollment increase from 3,569 in 1953 to 4,619 in 1954. Predictions are that in 1955 enrollment at SIU will reach 5,500 and by 1956 will be 6,500.

SEIEC Employees Organize Social Club

Employees of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-operative have organized a social club with nine directors to handle all social, recreational and welfare activities of the employees.

The activities will include the flower fund, visiting the sick, an annual Christmas party, an annual picnic and other occasions that might arise.

The first activity held by the new club was the Christmas open house attended by 300 including all but seven of the employees and their families. Seven of the eleven members of the co-operative's board of directors were present, as follows: Lloyd Pickard and Mrs. Pickard, Hosea Barlow and Mrs. Barlow, Clarence Sutton and Mrs. Sutton, J. D. Clemens and Mrs. Clemens, Earl Hunt, George Aydelott and S. D. Wise, co-operative attorney.

A donation of $75.50 was given to George Gustin, employee from Cave-in-Rock, injured last fall at the SEIEC garage in Harrisburg and unable to work since that time. Tom Clevenger, the manager, was presented a gift from the employees and other gifts from the members of the board.

The party was financed entirely by the employees.

The theme of the program was "Membership" and was conducted by Misses Ruby Thomas and Mary Price, membership committee. Miss Price gave an informative talk on the "Emblem" of the Business and Professional Women's club. The emblem was selected to typify women in the business world with a vision and courage for unlimited possibilities and growth in an organization for business and professional women. The emblem as it stands today is a circle which encloses the dauntless figure of "Nike," a symbol of strength and progress.

Miss Price also stated that the "Torch" is for leadership and is a symbol of the club's education program; the scroll is the symbol of learning and expresses the faith, ideals and achievements, denotes the club's obligation to the future and also is a symbol of the public affairs and legislative programs of the club; the wand is the club's staff of power and is a symbol of the health program and the ship of commerce indicates the entrance of women in all areas of industry and an expression of opportunities until there is no door closed to all who are prepared to take advantage of them. The ship symbolizes the club's international relations program.

These symbols over the inscription of NFBPWC are bound in a golden circle signifying unbroken harmony, endless friendship, circle of completeness, light, health, peace, achievement, victory, comradeship, blessing of work and benediction of love, she added, and concluded that from 1919 to 1954 there had been many changes in the B. and P. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Carl F. Stokich, who passed away Jan. 14, 1954:

I have lost my life's companion
A life linked with my own,
And every day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone.
The call was short, shock severe,
To part with one I love so dear;
No one knows the silent heart-aches,
Only those who have lost can tell.

Of the grief I bear in silence
For the one I love so well,
I never knew that hearts could ache
To hear his voice again.
I never knew that nights could be
So lonely, cold and dim,
But oh, I learned so many things
Because of losing him.

If all the world were mine to give,
I would give it all and more,
To see his face I love so dear,
Come smiling through my door.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren. *167-1

State to Open Bids on Two Saline County Projects

Edwin A. Rosenstone, director of Public Works and Buildings, State of Illinois, today announced that the division of highways will open bids Friday, Jan. 28, on 61 projects in 34 counties, with two of the projects listed in Saline County.

They are:
One and 76 miles of bituminous surface treatment on gravel or crushed stone base course on Federal Aid Secondary Route 898 from Harco north and 1.93 miles of gravel or crushed stone surface course on Federal Aid Secondary Route 902 from Federal Aid Secondary Route 898 two miles southwest of Galatia westerly.

A reinforced concrete double box culvert, a continuous steel I-beam bridge, a reinforced concrete slab bridge and bituminous paved approaches, all on State Aid Route 9 between Carrier Mills and Route 13.

Civil Service Asks Pay Hike for State Employees

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Civil Service Commission called today for a 3 1/2-million-dollar pay hike for state employees.

The commission said in a report to the 1955 Illinois Legislature that salaries of most employees are far below those paid by private industries and by states comparable to Illinois.

Nine states similar to Illinois in size, wealth and business volume pay an average minimum salary 30 per cent above Illinois and an average maximum 3 per cent above Illinois, the report said.

The commission criticized wage rates paid to tradesmen by Illinois, however. It said the state pays construction rates for year-round maintenance workers, while private industry usually negotiates at lower rates for steady employment.

Stratton, Stevenson Head Celebration Of Remap Victory

CHICAGO — Partisan politics were left behind Thursday night as 500 political and civic leaders, headed by Gov. William G. Stratton and former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, celebrated the Nov. 2 victory of the reapportionment amendment.

Republican Stratton said "it was an exercise for better performance in the future."

Democrat Stevenson said the bipartisan victory made the prospects for curing other defects in the state constitution look bright. He was particularly hopeful for passage of a judicial reform amendment.

The co-chairmen of the Illinois Committee for Constitutional Revision, Samuel W. Witwer Jr. and Charles B. Shuman, were presented silver trophies in recognition of their efforts.

The governor has asked the 1955 Legislature to submit a judicial reform amendment to the voters in 1956.

SEIEC Employees Credit Union Elects Officers

The Southeastern Electric Employees Credit Union held its fifth annual meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the Eldorado headquarters.

In spite of the heavy snow, about 50 were present to elect three directors. They were: George Butler, Harrisburg, Noble Spain, Benton, and Carr Douglass Jr., Eldorado. Principal speaker was H. E. Schweizer of East St. Louis, field representative from the Illinois Credit Union league. At the close of the business meeting the credit union movie "King's X" was shown, after which refreshments were served to all.

Officers for 1955 are: Roger Lentz, president, Eldorado; Cecil Garavalia, vice president, Harrisburg; and Carr Douglass Jr., secretary-treasurer, Eldorado.

BELLE OF PARIS—It's easy to see why Danik Pattison was chosen "Miss Paris." Only 16, the former classical dancer is supposedly the youngest model in the French capital, and has her sights set on the "Miss France" title.

Methodist Men Install Officers

Installation of officers and the reading and acceptance of the organization's constitution and by-laws were the main points on the program of the newly formed Methodist Men group Wednesday night when it met in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Dale Harmon, district superintendent of the Harrisburg district, served as installing officer. Those installed were Don Williams, president; Ned Presson, vice president; H. E. Jones, secretary; Harold Parker, treasurer, and John Biggers, promotion chairman.

President Williams presided over the business session which followed with Mr. Biggers reading and explaining sections of the constitution and by-laws drawn up for the organization. The group then accepted the document with minor changes.

The Youth choir, which is being formed under the direction of Bill Williams, sang two numbers prior to the start of the program.

Tony Marino Pardon Plea Denied

SPRINGFIELD — The federal government today was free to deport an Italian immigrant whose murder conviction 30 years ago was called a "legal merry-go-round" by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gov. William G. Stratton Thursday denied Tony Marino's plea for a pardon. His decision meant the federal government can proceed with its steps to deport Marino to Italy.

Stratton acted on the recommendation of the Illinois Parole Board, but neither the board nor the governor explained the decision.

Marino, then an 18-year-old youth, was sentenced to life in 1925 on charges of holding up and murdering a 77-year-old man in South Beloit, Ill.

Refreshments were served following the business session.

Russia Seeks to Halt Rearmament Of West Germany

PARIS (AP)—The Soviet Union called home its ambassador to France for consultations today in an increasingly tough Communist campaign to stop the rearmament of West Germany.

Russia fired notes Thursday night to the five present Brussels Treaty powers protesting that the contemplated Western European Union violated the Geneva convention on the use of chemical and bacteriological weapons.

A brief announcement by the Soviet embassy said Ambassador Serge Vinogradov will leave Paris for Moscow via Berlin this afternoon for consultations.

Political observers here said Moscow undoubtedly wants to discuss with Vinogradov the explosive political situation in France and the possibility it still could be exploited to overturn both the government of Premier Pierre Mendes France and the new WEU.

Senate Committee Votes to 'Study' Stock Market

By United Press

The Senate Banking Committee decided unanimously today to "study" the stock market. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said no "investigation" is planned, in the usual congressional sense of the word.

"I know of no specific frauds, manipulations, or wrong doings," said Fulbright, "nor am I even suspicious of any."

The committee hopes to start its hearings on the booming bull market about Feb. 21. Fulbright said it hopes to avoid influencing the market, and that he doesn't think it has so far. He said he sees nothing in the inquiry "to be scared of."

The committee is interested, Fulbright said, in the "very unusual, almost perpendicular" increases in stock prices which began about 15 months ago and have been intensified recently.

The chairman said he has discussed the hearings with G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, and that Funston is "pleased to have the opportunity to educate the public as to the activities of the exchange."

R. P. Vickers, 85, Dies at Eldorado

Riley P. Vickers, 85, resident of 608 East Panama street, Eldorado, died in the Pearce hospital in Eldorado yesterday at 9:15 p. m. He had been ill for over a year.

He leaves his wife, Cora, and the following children: Mrs. Margaret Beech, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Polly Bateman, Paragould, Ark.; Mrs. Emma Taylor, Evansville, Ind.; William Vickers of Eldorado; two stepsons, John Sullivan, Evansville, and Aaron Boaz, Marion; and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Gladys Wood, Bethesda, Md., and Mrs. Tessie Rietz, Chandler, N. Y.; 41 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church in Eldorado. Rev. O. C. Cooper assisted by Rev. Russell Duffer of Paragould, Ark., will officiate, and burial will be in the Leavell Hill cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home.

Planes Search for Boy Missing in River Bottoms

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Three Civil Air Patrol planes joined a search today for 5-year-old Orin (Butchie) Parrot Jr., missing 24 hours in the Mississippi River bottoms.

A hundred volunteers trekked through the swampy bottoms along with police and two Boy Scout troops.

The boy's parents still held hope that Butchie would be found alive. "I know he's alive," Mrs. Parrot sobbed. "Maybe it's a mother's intuition but I just feel he is all right."

Authorities were dragging a slough adjacent to the Parrot home.

Butchie was last seen by members of his family alone in the yard about noon Thursday. Workmen in a nearby tileyard said the boy and his dog, Tippiie, were in the tileyard shortly after noon.

The dog returned home later but no trace was found of the boy.

The parrots have two other children, Sharon Kay, 3, and Janet Anita, 1.

Russia Offers to Share Industrial A-Plant Discoveries

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Russia said today she will share with the world her discoveries in the operation of industrial plants with atomic power.

Russia claims its atom-powered industrial plants are the world's first.

The Russian announcement said a report on their operation will be made public before a United Nations-sponsored conference on the peaceful use of atomic energy, scheduled to be held later this year.

The brief announcement said the Soviet government was taking this step as a part of its efforts "to contribute to the development of international cooperation" in the field of peaceful development of atomic energy.

When you want to Go
-You're gonna Go!

No ifs, ands or buts about it. When you give the gun to a 1955 Buick with Dynaflo Drive,* you move.

In the instant you push down the pedal, you get the action you've called for—immediate getaway from a standing start, or immediate safety-surge out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's not magic, this thrilling and pulse-quickening response—though it feels like the closest thing to it.

It's a principle of the modern airplane, brought for the first time to an automotive transmission.

Twenty "variable pitch propellers" inside the Dynaflo unit itself can change their angle—like the propeller of the airliner can change its pitch from take-off position to cruising position.

And what this brings to you—at the wheel of a 1955 Buick—is the nearest thing to flight on wheels. Far better gas mileage in your normal driving and cruising. Spectacular new response when you want it for extra quick getaway or emergency acceleration.

But all this, mind you, with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflo Drive.

Surely, a demonstration of Variable Pitch Dynaflo is a Buick must this year. We'll be happy to do the honors—and show you, in the doing, what a whale of a buy you make here. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Name Committee to Aid Draft Boards On Deferments

Formation of a special nine-man committee to aid Selective Service boards in considering deferments for scientists and engineers in critical industries was announced today by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois State Director of Selective Service.

The committee's recommendation regarding the occupational deferment of any individual will not be binding on his local board or appeal board but will be merely advisory, Colonel Armstrong emphasized.

Cases to be considered by the Advisory Committee include those of men who have graduated from degree-granting institutions in engineering, science or a specialized category and who are employed full-time in a professional capacity utilizing their particular education. Also considered will be technicians who have had the equivalent of two years' training in a technical school, including such persons as draftsmen, laboratory technicians, and model makers.

Predict Upswing in Employment in Illinois

CHICAGO (U) — Top State Labor Department officials said today an upswing in employment appears likely this year in Illinois.

"I look for real industrial improvement," said Roy F. Cummins, director of the department. Samuel C. Bernstein, state commissioner of unemployment compensation, said jobless claims should fall below last year's levels.

At mid-December, the state's non-farm employment was 2,992,900, a drop of 80,000 persons from the 1953 mid-December total.

Woman Killed While Sleeping in Bed

NEW YORK (U) — A 45-year-old housewife and businesswoman was murdered with three shots through the head as she slept in a red nightgown Thursday night.

The body of Mrs. Gertrude MacPherson, in the quiet posture of sleep beneath unrumpled bedclothes, was found by her husband when he returned from work early today.

Police said the killer apparently knew Mrs. MacPherson, was familiar with the couple's comfortable six-room house and may even have had a key to the side door.

James MacPherson, 48, told police he found the side door ajar and noticed a light on in the upstairs bathroom when he returned from his work as a garage mechanic.

Industrial A-Plans Missing in Britain

LONDON (U) — Britain's Atomic Energy Authority said today documents on industrial development of atomic energy are missing from a London office.

However, the authority said, the missing documents contain no important military or secret nuclear information.

A brief statement issued by the authority said the documents were reported missing from an office of the British Electrical Authority where they were "being examined in connection with long-term plans for the use of nuclear energy for the generation of electric power."

Richards May Return Auto, Other Prizes from Show

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U) — Pole vaulting Reverend Bob Richards, one of the few Americans rated a sure winner in the 1956 Olympics, said today he will give back a new car received on a television program rather than lose his chance to compete in Melbourne.

But it remained for the district AAU office to decide whether Richards was being cited for his athletic prowess when he accepted the car, or for his rise from obscurity to rank as a leading minister, and pastor of the Church of Brethren here.

"If it conflicts with AAU rules," Richards said, "I will not accept the car because I want to compete in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne."

The controversy was touched off when the pole vaulting paragon accepted the car and several other gifts during a surprise appearance on the TV program "This Is Your Life."

Richards said it was his recollection that master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards told him "we recognize that in your ministerial duties you have to make many sick calls and the transportation problem is a big one, so we're giving you this 1955 Mercury for your church work."

Sue Clark, spokeswoman for the show, said in Hollywood the gifts were cleared with the AAU before the program.

Larry Houston, of the district AAU office in Los Angeles, said he had received orders to make a "routine" investigation of the gifts, but that no charges had been filed against Richards.

Super Automobiles Forecast by Auto Engineer

DETROIT, Mich. (U) — Super automobiles, electronically guided and up to 25 feet long, were forecast today by one of America's foremost automotive engineers.

The "highway cruisers" may become one of three specialized types of passenger cars within the next 25 years, Harry E. Chesebrough, chief body engineer of Chrysler Corp., told a meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

He also predicted super four-passenger vehicles and sports cars. Chesebrough said the highway cruiser, somewhat lower and wider than current cars, will be equipped with electronic and electro-mechanical devices for obstacle warning, deceleration and guidance. It would provide "safe, fast, intercity transportation over a system of limited access superhighways still to be built," he said.

"With a much lighter, somewhat smaller power plant than we know today, it can have rear engine drive to give it a flat door and more optimum aerodynamic shape," the Chrysler engineer reported.

Americans between 30 and 40 consume more coffee per person than any other age group, averaging well over three cups daily, according to the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

ACTION IN HARRISBURG'S NEW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM—Part of the action in Thursday night's basketball game featuring Harrisburg and Metropolis Junior high basketball teams, shows Mike Walker, Harrisburg guard, getting off a jump shot at the north basket. The ball was high off Walker's hands (No. 5) when picture was made. Waiting for the rebound is Charles Henshaw, 10, Harrisburg forward, facing camera and Owens, No. 9, Evans, No. 10, Voegelé, arm upraised and unidentified player partially hid, all from Metropolis. Folding bleacher seats, shown in background, are on both sides of gym and additional seats could be placed on concrete run way, back of railing. (Register Staff Photo)

Bauer, Wertz, Rizzuto Reject Contract Offers

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Hank Bauer, Vic Wertz and Phil Rizzuto each had a different complaint today about the same thing—money.

Bauer, a .294 hitter with the Yankees last season, was offered "a little raise" for 1955 but insisted "I don't feel it was enough."

Wertz, who helped Cleveland get into the World Series and then emerged as the batting star with a .500 mark even though the Indians were ambushed, was offered the same money he received last year. Naturally, he turned thumbs down on that pact.

Rizzuto, whose average shrunk to an almost minuscule .195 with the Yankees last year, had a different problem than either Bauer or Wertz. He was asked to take "a substantial cut" from the $40,000 he received last year.

"Uh-uh," Rizzuto said, "I'm not signing a contract like that." While Bauer bided his time in Kansas City, Wertz in Detroit and Rizzuto on Hillside, N. J., a couple of other players took the opportunity to scrawl their names on the dotted line.

Jackie Robinson Signs

One of them was Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers, who accepted a slight slice from the estimated $40,000 he received last year. Robinson, who will be 36 years old Jan. 31, batted .311 although handicapped by injuries in 1954.

Two Milwaukee players, first baseman Joe Adcock and left fielder Hank Aaron, also agreed to terms. Adcock will be paid about $20,000 this year while Aaron will receive an estimated $10,000. They were the 18th and 19th Milwaukee players to sign.

Mike Garcia, one of Cleveland's famed "big three" and the league's earned run leader last season, okayed a pact calling for $30,000, about the same money he collected for his 19-8 record in 1954. The Indians also announced the hiring of their former Manager Steve O'Neill to serve as a personal aide to General Manager Hank Greenberg.

The Giants announced the signing of southpaw pitchers Windy McCall and Pete Burnside.

Illinois Meets Ohio State in TV Tilt Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—Two of the seven potential leaders in the Big Ten basketball chase should be eliminated, at least temporarily, Saturday as four of the clubs with only one defeat tangled in two of the four league games on the conference card.

Illinois, one of the four clubs tied for the top with two wins in three games, travels to Ohio State for the afternoon television spectacle. The Illini are a scanty two-point favorite to win, despite the best efforts of the Buckeyes' Robin Freeman, the league scoring leader with 37 points per game.

Ohio State too could remain in contention for first place by a victory as the Buckeyes have broken even in two contests.

The second game affecting the top seven clubs matches Purdue, with one win and one loss, at Minneapolis against Minnesota, tied with Illinois, Iowa and Michigan at the top with a two-and-one record.

The Gophers' boasting the league's third best point maker in Dick Garmaker with a 29-point average, were 14-point choices, the heaviest odds assigned to any league game, even though Purdue has been beaten only twice in 10 starts this year.

Michigan will risk its share of the league lead against Michigan State at East Lansing, and the Spartans, though beaten twice in three conference starts, were nine-point favorites.

The fourth game will be for the basement with Wisconsin, beaten three times in four games, a two-point choice over defending champion Indiana, defeated twice in three starts, for their match at Madison.

Northwestern was a three-point favorite to trip Notre Dame on the Wildcat floor in their second meeting of the season. The Irish won the first contest, 79-69, at South Bend.

Junior High, Metropolis Split Games at Opening of New Gym

Two or three hundred basketball fans turned out Thursday night to watch the Harrisburg Junior high school teams in action and to get a first look at the new Junior high school gymnasium.

Although the gym had been used for practice for more than a month and just before Christmas an afternoon game was played, last night was the official opening of the gym, with the general public having its first opportunity to see the gym in use.

Metropolis' Junior high was the visiting school and took the decision in the eighth grade game, 44-38.

Harrisburg easily won the seventh grade contest, 43-26, giving the competing schools an even break for the evening.

23 Players See Action

The score of the seventh grade game doesn't tell the story of the difference in the two teams. Harrisburg's starting five ran up a big score, being in front 13-2 at the end of the first quarter.

Before the game was completed by a victory as the Buckeyes have broken even in two contests.

Fans got a laugh out of two incidents happening in quick succession. Late in the game with Harrisburg substituting freely, there was a mixup that ended with Harrisburg having six players in action, and as a result a technical foul was called.

On the throw in by Metropolis following the free toss, a Metropolis lad took the ball and despite yells from teammates, dribbled the wrong way and went in for a layup for Harrisburg.

Seeing most action for the locals were Taborn, Stone, Harrison, Aud, Feazel and Henshaw.

Large Playing Floor

Metropolis jumped away to a quick lead in the eighth grade game, being in front 9-0 midway in the first quarter and held an 18-8 advantage at the end of the period. The Metropolis lads' ability to control rebounds off both boards paid off through the game.

At halftime Harrisburg still trailed 24-17, but by the end of the third quarter the margin had been cut to 29-27.

With the fourth quarter about half over Harrisburg pulled into a 33-33 tie, but Metropolis quickly went in front and held on to win 44-38.

Playing for Harrisburg were Rauh, Walker, Drue, Henshaw, Pickford, Pavelonis, Furlong, Ford and Beggs.

The new gym has a large playing floor, with adequate space between the boundary lines and seats.

The floor is wide enough that courts can be marked off cross-court making two floors available for practice sessions and physical education purposes.

There are folding bleachers on both sides of the floor, with seating capacity of approximately 1,000. There also is a new type clock, with minutes to play shown in lighted figures.

Pope County High Defeats Equality Cardinals, 51-39

Pope County's Pirates drew away from host Equality high in the final quarter last night to grab a 51-39 decision and their sixth conference victory of the season.

The invading Pirates checked Equality's scoring ace, Ken Wooley, with seven points, but were unable to put the game away until the last quarter.

With Phil Holland leading the way, the Pirates ran up a 14-8 quarter advantage. The Cards outscored their opponents 7-6 in the second, but still trailed 20-15 at halftime.

"Kayo" Willis' cagers again outpointed their visitors in the third, pulling within four points of the Pirates at the end of the period. The score was 31-27. Holland, who went scoreless in the second and third cantos, again broke into a spree during the final frame. His ten points led the Pope Countians to their 11-point victory.

Holland was high man for the game with 20 tallies. Eddie Kaufmann sparked the Cards with 16.

Pope Co. also won the preliminary, 67-45.

Looking At Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Galatia will have its second crack at Shawneetown tonight in the Gallatin county school's gymnasium. The unbeaten Indians have now compiled a record of 15 straight victories—one of the best in southern Illinois—and are favored to stop the Bearcats again. Coach Sammy Miranda is in a rebuilding program at Galatia, and the school is experiencing one of the poorest seasons in many a year. But the Bearcats have shown improvement since early season, and at times the boys even look like the Galatia teams of old. It just might be Galatia's night to spring the big one. At least, don't look for a 33-point Shawneetown romp this time.

Shawneetown's following has so increased this year at home games that school officials found it necessary to do some remodeling during the Christmas holidays. The wooden blinds on each side of the playing floor, enclosing the bleachers, have been removed providing two extra rows of seats. A 12-foot scorer's and timer's bench has also replaced the inadequate nine-foot one. The work was done by faculty members Robert Walker, Barney Genisio and James Mitchell.

Rangy Jack Nolen, Shawneetown junior, has now scored 306 points in 15 games for a 20.4 average. Nolen hit his stride late in November against Vienna and has been setting a blistering pace ever since. In the last nine games he has scored 214 points for a 23.8 average. Bobby Spottsville has 171 points in 14 tilts and Garrison Newsom 218 tallies in 15 games.

Shawneetown was seeded No. 1 in the coming Greater Egyptian conference tournament, and Vienna, holding down second place in the loop race, was seeded No. 5. As the draw went, there shouldn't be a poor game in the entire meet. Shawneetown and Vienna have both won tournaments already this season. The Indians captured the Equality Invitational, and Vienna took the Karnak affair, beating Mounds, 64-60; Dongola, 57-54, and Brookport, 80-69. Vienna has an overall season record of five victories and five defeats, exclusive of Tuesday's game. Two of their losses have been to Shawneetown.

Host school Pope Co. high and Cave-in-Rock, first round opponents for Shawneetown and Vienna respectively in the tourney next week, are running fourth and third in the loop standings. This pits the second division teams in the other two first round games. So, you see, anything can happen.

There are a few interesting facts, and probably will be incidentally, if you're a "You Pick 'em" fan, a blank on this tourney appeared on Thursday night's sport page. You have until Sunday to make your selections and mail it to the Sports Dept., Daily Register.

In separate accidents, both related to basketball, two members of the Elvis Smith family, former residents of Harrisburg and now living in Alton, were injured painfully last Thursday. Harland D. slipped and fell while refereeing a cage game at Rufus Easton school and suffered a bone fracture to his right arm. Earlier in the day, Donald, his 16-year-old brother, had suffered a severe ankle sprain in a jumping effort on the hoop. Both boys are seniors at Alton high. The family moved from Harrisburg last June.

Krause Urges Modification of Foul Rule to Permit Free Throws After Game

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK —(NEA)— Moose Krause was enjoying a cup of coffee until somebody brought up college basketball's latest attempt to turn the game into a free-throw shooting contest.

"They have a bonus rule," the Notre Dame athletic director snorted, "when they should have a deduction."

The bonus rule, you'll remember, is that dandy little part of the college rules which gives a successful foul shooter one on the house "most every time you turn around."

"Instead of giving shots away," Krause, who played and coached Irish basketball, went on, "they should stop foul shooting altogether before we wind up with nothing left to see."

Since the schools began operating with the bonus shot business six weeks or so back, their games have approximated a Philharmonic Symphony orchestra warming up.

"What I want is a modification of the fouling rule," Moose said. "I want all free-throw shooting cut out of the regular game. 'Keep a check on the fouls and then do either of two things: 'Have the teams stage a free-throw contest at the completion of the contest or use Maurice Podoloff's suggestion—add up the fouls and at the end of each half shoot the difference. I have 25 fouls and you have 30. That gives you five shots at the end of the half.'"

"The spectators watching this year's play prove to me one thing—basketball is a great game. It's got to be to keep people coming out. Why, if football games ran on the same lines, we'd have difficulty selling tickets to a game with anybody."

Krause is the latest—and one of the strongest—voices to be raised against present-day basketball. Too often, when a guy like this makes such a suggestion, his opinions are passed off as dreams.

But the big fellow who has been running Notre Dame athletics for several years now has — if other opinions mean anything—a sound-a-dollar idea.

Podoloff, the president of the National Basketball Association, feels the same way.

"The foul shot should be taken out of normal play," he says.

"A game should have progressive suspense. In football, a team moves the ball. It is halted. It regroups its forces and moves on again. You're always waiting for the climax."

"In basketball, a player drives at the basket. You wait for something to happen. Then, boom!

HTHS Freshmen Win Two Cage Games at Herrin

The Harrisburg freshman basketball team journeyed to Herrin last night and won both the feature tilt and the preliminary from the Herrin frosh.

The locals won the main game 64-42, taking an early lead and keeping well out in front with Bob Clark having a hot night and scoring 26 points. Harrisburg led 12-6 at the quarter, 32-8 at halftime and 48-20 at the end of the third period, permitting Coach Jim McKee to use a lot of boys in the contest.

Clark was high with 26. Ray Hassett had 12, Donald Biggs 8, Eddie Price 7, Bill Yates 6, Jerry Hicks and Zan Hefner 2. Other players were Mickey Stone, Jon Frohock, Lloyd Banks, Ira Logan and Bob Murrie.

Harrisburg took a 22-21 decision in the preliminary. Herrin led 21-19 with 10 seconds left. A Harrisburg player, fouled, missed his free shot and Lloyd Banks took the rebound. He scored and fouled as the game-ending horn sounded and made the winning free shot after the tilt had ended.

Jerry Hicks was high with 11 points. Banks had 7, Murrie 2 and Frohock 2. Logan, Stone and Hefner also saw action.

The freshman play a single game at West Frankfort at 7 p. m. Monday.

Somebody hits him, the whistle blows and everything stops. The spell is broken. It takes a couple of minutes for it to be built up again. Sometimes it never is."

Johnny Nucata, the referee, is another who would abandon the whistle.

"If my way were law," he says, "I'd never blow a whistle as long as there is no gain or loss on a play. Say a player goes through and shoots. He's hacked as he shoots—but the shot goes in. Obviously, the foul didn't mean anything. Why bother to call it?"

"We should not ban a player for excessive fouls. We should have no limit. There isn't a sport in the world where a team is forced to play without full strength because somebody committed five fouls. Hockey has a penalty rule, but only for two or five minutes. In basketball, you're through for the night with five. It ruins the game."

Guess it is a little whacky. They want the impossible—a full game of basketball.

Anybody sane knows you simply must have something like 60 foul shots a game or it's not a sport.

Fight The Wild River by EDMUNDS CLAUSSEN

© 1954, W. Edmunds Clausen. Prior copyright, Standard Publications, Inc.

THE STORY: Radcliff Burke has already made an unsuccessful attempt to capture a shipment of rifles from Captain Crotch's riverboat. The rifles are to be delivered to the Colorado La Paz. They are for the Union Army to protect settlers from Apaches and also to keep Arizona from being captured by the Confederacy.

X

Less than two months had passed since Pauline Weaver had found the first gold in the river gravel, and from this desolate camp of one tent La Paz had boomeranged into a healthy settlement of 1000 men. At dusk the General Heath bore in on the shore. Amador had already tied fast to a tree above them.

The largest building yet attempted was under construction, a saloon whose front section was already doing a land-office business while Mexican laborers still fitted vigas to the rear which would support its roof. A brusque, ramrod-straight, shaded against its front door and the walk. Attached to one of the posts was a freshly painted sign:

CASA AMARILLA

WE BUY HIDES, BULLION, ANYTHING SALEABLE

Upriver, his friends John Slade and Sugar Logan had built their crude ore mill, with which to crush the quartz that was coming from the inland hills. Already there was more ore than the mill could handle. Crotch had made a deal to haul the surplus to the river's mouth on barges. Sugar Logan would have the first ore loads ready for him on the downriver run.

This Jamison coveted, cargoes that through the years would make him rich.

There were no scruples about Jamison's business methods. He would wreck a boat or kill to get his roots established at the outset. But there was one thing Crotch thought the man had overlooked, for Crotch believed himself a judge of the caprices of the river. The channels were changing so fast that another month or so would find it impossible for Navigation to stop with their larger packets. Perhaps Jamison counted on owning the General Heath by that time.

Burke had delayed going ashore, and now Crotch's eyes narrowed as he watched the man step down the swayed-back gangplank. Beyond, near the freight warehouses, his gaze picked up the truculent miner with the bandaged head talking with a heavily bearded La Paz man. He had the odd impression these two were waiting for Burke and so kept them in view.

VFW Auxiliary Sponsors Essay Contest at HTHS

Appearing in the January issue of the Bulletin, national magazine of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is a photo originally published by The Daily Register, of the presentation last May of awards to high school essay contest winners by Mrs. Florence Hancock, newly installed president, who had served as essay contest chairman. The winners were Judy Morse, Carolyn Evans, and Bernadette Hamilton. The photo was used in connection with the presentation and promotion of this year's contest, the title of which is "What Civil Defense Means to Me." The Harrisburg Township high school again is participating, and Mrs. Wilma Ashe of the VFW Auxiliary is this year's essay chairman.

Local awards are $5, $10 and $15, and a medal for first prize, with the winning essay being submitted to the state contest. The Illinois Department VFW Auxiliary will give prizes of $25, $50, $100 and $150, the winning essay to be entered in the national contest. There are also five prizes of five dollars each.

The national awards are, first prize one thousand dollars and a gold medal; second prize, five hundred dollars and gold medal; third prize, two hundred fifty dollars and gold medal; and fourth prize, one hundred dollars and gold medal. Ten awards of ten dollars each, and ten of five dollars each are also given.

Two years ago the local contest produced a state winner, when Lyle Reed of the HTHS won the one hundred dollar prize for placing second.

The subject matter of this contest undertaken annually, and participated in by the local auxiliary and high school, is always patriotic in nature, and is in keeping with the avowed purpose of the organization to inculcate the youth of the land in patriotism. This is one of its most ambitious projects.

Bobbie Dunn Fund Swells to $5,018

Deposits made into the Bobbie Dunn Fund bank account yesterday brought the total of the fund for the young teen-ager who lost both legs under a train Christmas Day to $5,018. A former resident of Harrisburg, he moved with his parents to Pontiac, Mich., around two years ago.

The fund, started 12 days ago with $20, has snowballed thanks to hundreds of mailed contributions from all over Michigan and donations by local industrial, business and other employ groups.

Three pastors are administering the fund until a suitable organization can be found to direct the use of the money for the 13-year-old's medical and educational needs.

Contributions may still be sent to the fund, care of Mayor, City Hall, Pontiac, Mich.
